You should not have to pay more than $20 to apply for an apartment – new rent laws were passed to protect tenants from things like this. It's not surprising the real estate industry is looking for loopholes, but it's still infuriating.

When I moved to NYC in 2001, subway service was something you could rely on, but not the last few years.

Andy Byford has been doing a great job trying to turn things around, but the long term solution is for NYC to run our own transit system.

HAPPY FRIDAY! Hope everyone had a great week. Ours was really productive! Here's some of what we accomplished:

This week

Funded $16.6mil for legal counsel to immigrants facing deportation.

Expanded the City's human rights laws for the "gig" economy.

Created a pilot program to see if school start times should be later.

Did you know NYC has a new law that requires contractors to submit plans to DOT to accommodate bike lanes? If you see a blocked bike lane due to construction, you can now report it with 311 by saying a contractor is not complying with a bike lane. www1.nyc.gov/html/dot/html/ …

You can vote on the city charter! Want to learn more about it? Go to an informational session held in one of the five boroughs.

The New York City Charter is our city's constitution, an instruction manual for our local government. It describes how the city spends our tax dollars, the powers of our elected officials, and how decisions are made about changes to our neighborhoods.

On November fifth New Yorkers across the five boroughs will vote on five ballot questions that could change our local elections, how police officers are held accountable, how the city budget is set, government ethics rules, and how land in the city is developed.

On November 5, 2019, you can vote on that.

We want people to wear helmets. But requiring them to wear helmets becomes a barrier to riding, which means less riders. That is the opposite of what we want and need for NYC.

This is a heartbreaking story, and my thoughts are with this family during this tragedy.

I want to thank the two men who went on the subway tracks to help. You showed amazing courage and compassion in a terrible situation.

> The New York Times ✓ @nytimes
> A man died after apparently jumping in front of a train in the Bronx on Monday while holding his 5-year-old daughter who survived with cuts, police said. "The only thing she was saying was 'Papa, my papa,'" said a man who helped lift her from the tracks.

The Public Charge rule, going into effect Oct 15, has already caused a drop-off in benefit enrollments due to fear.

Yesterday, I held a Public Charge round table with community and ethnic media to get word out that immigrants still have protections.

How is this criminalization? If marijuana was illegal and enforceable and people used it and broke the law but now the laws have changed why are those people still not at fault?

Our fight to help those first responders has not ended and neither has our battle against hate.

New York is the greatest city in the world and continues to grow stronger every day. Nothing can break our spirit. #NeverForget 2/2

10:17 am: NYPD is reporting that all three suspicious packages were empty rice cookers — two at the Fulton St station, and one on 16th and 7th. Unclear if the incidents are related, but both areas deemed safe. Expect residual subway delays for a bit.

Grateful everyone is safe!

10:17 am: NYPD is reporting that all three suspicious packages were empty rice cookers — two at the Fulton St station, and one on 16th and 7th. Unclear if the incidents are related, but both areas deemed safe. Expect residual subway delays for a bit.

Grateful everyone is safe!

Today in 1994 we banned assault weapons for 10 years. During that time, there was a 25% drop in gun massacres and a 40% drop in fatalities. The facts are clear: less guns = less violence and death.

It's time NOW for @senatemajldr to pass gun reform.

Tragic news. Our deepest condolences to Officer Mulkeen's friends & family, and to the women and men of the NYPD.

Officer Mulkeen gave his life to keep us safe, and New York City will never forget his sacrifice.

Rest in peace, Officer Mulkeen.

Commissioner O'Neill @NYPDONeill
NYPD Police Officer Brian Mulkeen, a 33 yr-old Bronx cop, was killed about 12:30 am wh e do ng the courageous work NYers needed him to do. He served for nearly 7 years. There s no worse a moment n our profession than this. Pls keep Brian's family &.

Heat and hot water outages should be rare occurrences, but at NYCHA buildings they're too common. Residents in public housing shouldn't have to worry about how they'll survive the winter cold. @NYCCouncil will work to hold NYCHA accountable this winter.

Breaking car culture is not an attack on people who need cars to get around.

It's saying we need to build transit that makes it an easy choice for NYers to get out of cars and onto mass transit:

So they can safely ride a bike, take the bus, ride the subway -- or WALK!

I've allocated $800k to filling tree pits in my district, but sadly some empty pits can't be filled.

So we're trying something new:

Filling unviable tree pits with shrubs or raised flowers.

Two years ago the deadliest mass shooting in US history happened in Las Vegas. It is infuriating to think that our gun laws still make no sense, today, two years later. We must hold on to that fury and keep turning it into action. We must never give up the fight for gun control.

I'm still for a vacancy unit law.
Housing is a precious commodity in NYC, and developers are building too many luxury units that sit vacant.

Tax them or require/increase the number of affordable units they must build in proportion

The NYPD is canvassing streets for additional victims. Contact the NYPD at 800 577 TIPS if you have any info.

Tragically, it appears the victims were sleeping when attacked. No one should be forced to sleep on our streets. We must do more to help these New Yorkers.

> NYC Council Speaker Corey Johnson @NYCSpeakerCoJo
> Horrific news for New Yorkers to wake up to. My deepest condolences to the victims' families. Truly heartbreaking. Thank you to the NYPD for their quick action.

It's a pathetic and cowardly act to attack anyone that is vulnerable and unable to protect themselves. This is the scum of humanity that deserves to live in a cage if at all.

Luckily you have allowed condos to go up all around town. Great to see your focus on the issue. You have your bike lanes and condos. Now what?

Evicting a senior citizen with stage four cancer from public housing seems heartless at best and a bureaucratic failure at worst. NYCHA should have some compassion here and let Mr. Sanchez stay in the apartment he shared with his late mother.

The MTA is saying they want to improve the speed of our trains by 50%. This would be a monumental improvement. It may sound too good to be true but we need to aim high and think big.

What would 50% faster trains mean to you?

. @CarlinaRivera is right. The more data the better! I welcome the data INRIX independently collected in addition to the results we'll receive from the outside firm we pushed for, led by @GridlockSam. I'm thrilled by how promising results are so far & look forward to seeing more.

> Carlina Rivera 利華娜 @CarlinaRivera
> Because of @NYCSpeakerCoJo's advocacy, we have the expert data to prove what so many have already seen: the 14th St Busway has been a massive success, with little to no impact on speeds on side streets. inrix.com/blog/2019/10/n

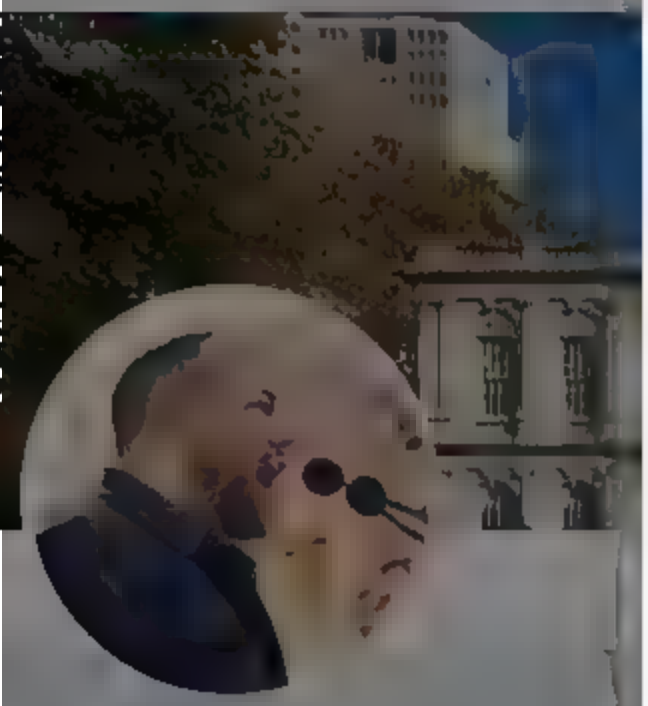
Please make sure we go beyond this data.



For one: I am sure EMS, NYPD & FDNY would never want to have the street revert back.

And I am sure the folks making deliveries and stores on 14th love the fact they can get goods hassle-free

We really need more loading zones city-wide.

Just curious... are cyclists subject to the same traffic laws? Or is perfectly okay for them to go against traffic and speed through intersections without slowing down for pedestrians or traffic lights? Again just curious

Council Speaker do you endorse proposal 1?
I am bothered by 1 ne If no candidate gets over 50 percent, the last place fin sher s eliminated and their votes transferred to the second choice candidate on each ballot That seems unfair to the first choice.

One year has passed since the horrific mass shooting at the Tree of Life Synagogue in Pittsburgh which killed 11 innocent people. We grieve for their loss with their family and friends. Since that time, the sickness of anti-Semitism has continued to grow in America and the world.

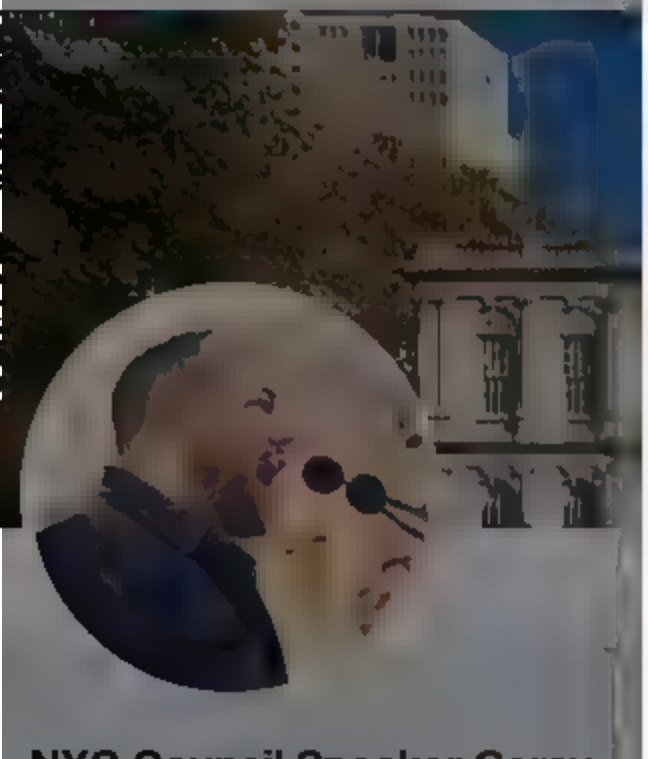
Did you see the video of like 100 police swarm a guy for not paying the subway fare?



Some of the police were walking with their hands resting on their guns while dealing with the public

Their arrest was an over reaction and officers should NEVER have hands resting on guns

Every officer seemed very concerned about how it was getting out of control. People kept coming over to them, disregarding instructions while they were all underground on a platform. It was dangerous & all ages must listen to officers for everyone to be safe. Sad 4 this city.

Any plan that addresses how we get around in this city must also involve the disability community—not as an afterthought, but as an integral part of the planning process. Anything less falls inexcusably short.

Truly despicable. I fully support the MTA's request for a full NYPD investigation. It's not right that our transit workers find themselves subject to such hate. This racist, volatile behavior cannot be tolerated.

A year ago, the @NYCCouncil had a hearing on lead hazards in NYC. We've passed 10 pieces of legislation to prevent lead poisoning since, but we're still finding gaps in enforcement and new young people with elevated blood lead levels.

At 10AM, we have a hearing to find out why.

The number of children with elevated blood lead levels should have been zero years ago, yet during today's @NYCCouncil hearing on this issue, I heard no acknowledgement of fault that there are still children being poisoned.

Yes, the development of the East Side Coastal Resiliency Project could have been handled better by the administration, but the end result will protect New Yorkers from catastrophic coastal flooding, which was the goal from the start.

We've long known that our prison system is inhumane and largely unhelpful. I'm so glad we've finally taken the first steps to correct this in New York City, and I'm grateful we have a good example in Norway of what our correctional system could be.

Hart Island has long been the final resting place for NYC's most marginalized, and since the island is hard to access for anyone wanting to pay respects, it's kept them marginalized even after death.

Today, the @NYCCouncil has the chance to change that.

Another school shooting, this time in Santa Clarita, CA. One person killed, two in critical condition, more injured. Our students grow up "knowing this is a thing that happens." It's sickening, heartbreaking, and infuriating.

There are no individual tombstones. No names indicating the dead. And yet it's estimated that about a million people are buried there.

Today, the @NYCCouncil voted to give them a respectful, more dignified resting place, and I'm so proud we did. 3/3

Last week, we took Hart Island back. A final resting place is not a jail, and we made that official when we voted to transfer the island so it's no longer under the Department of Corrections.

The media could not be played.

But we all know the police choose to enforce what they want, often they look the other way for certain people, and others they do not. Enforcement is arbitrary, often racist and the public knows it. That is why this is so infuriating #nypd #harassment of #immigrants #bim #nyc

Over-policing our subways isn't going to solve anything. We can keep the subway safe without harming people just trying to earn a living.

But we all know the police choose to enforce what they want, often they look the other way for certain people, and others they do not. Enforcement is arbitrary, often racist and the public knows it. That is why this is so infuriating #nypd #harassment of #immigrants #bim #nyc

Tonight as I was leaving Broadway Junction, I saw three or four police officers (one of them was either a plainclothes cop or someone who worked at the station) gathered around a crying woman and her churro cart. Apparently, it's illegal to sell food

But we all know the police choose to enforce what they want, often they look the other way for certain people, and others they do not. Enforcement is arbitrary, often racist and the public knows it. That is why this is so infuriating #nypd #harassment of #immigrants #bim #nyc

Over-policing our subways isn't going to solve anything. We can keep the subway safe without harming people just trying to earn a living.

I'm so grateful to the organizations that make sure New Yorkers don't go hungry, but we'd be remiss not to acknowledge how wrong this situation is in the first place. No one should have to choose between paying rent and eating a healthy meal.

We've lost so many of our trans siblings to violence. #TransgenderDayofRemembrance is a day not only to remember them, but to remember who and what we're fighting for in our pursuit of true equality: No one should have to hide who they are to be safe. #TDoR2019

Homelessness is a crisis in our city, and perhaps it's children who suffer the most. Homeless children suffer significant trauma, and they need the support of social workers in the one place they can rely on: school.

Expunging records from the war on drugs is important, but we have to reign in the biased #surveillance systems (like #FacialRecognition) that target thousands of New Yorkers of color. Please help us pass the #POSTAct and end this digitized stop-and-frisk.

Mary Beth is exactly right. The #StreetsMasterPlan is about prioritizing people over cars in order to build a safer, greener, more equitable city for all.

Endless gratitude to all the advocates from @NYC SafeStreets. We couldn't have done this without you.

This is a Manhattan issue, not NYC. The people of Manhattan walk, ride subways and drive. You're not giving us back anything it was already ours. Why don't you stop vilifying Manhattanites and pressure out of borough drivers and commercial vehicles that cause congestion.

Corey! The chokepoint of pedestrians on 35th and broadway the past two days has been crazy. They put a bunch of barricades where the crosswalk is, only allowing a single file through, and then barricaded the street so we don t even have the ability to move around it. (

Let's be clear: Flavored e-cigarettes are targeted to young people and, as a result, kids are increasingly getting addicted to nicotine.

The @NYCCouncil voted to ban flavored vaping products to protect our kids. Simple as that.

We need a robust safe haven system. Our unsheltered neighbors have long told us that they would come inside to a safe haven bed. The City can and must increase the number of safe haven beds so that they can serve all our unsheltered neighbors. (4/7)

We also must ensure all street outreach teams, in the boroughs & the subways, have street medicine teams & psychiatric services. Providing services to people where they are, including the streets, is an effective way to serve and gain the trust of unsheltered New Yorkers. (6/7)

Really???

This is a tragedy. Victim shaming is completely inappropriate.

It's the Daily News, so like, of course it's awful. Not only are they victim shaming, but what journalistic outlet says "buy weed"? Also, if we decriminalized marijuana, this wouldn't have happened. And, think of what NYC could do with the tax revenue!

Mullins's job is to represent the NYPD rank and file. If they have an issue with him they'll push him out. But this is completely in line with his previous behavior. They're ok with it, I promise.

Time to gear up for more winter weather tonight in the city! It will start snowing around 9pm, then turn to rain around 2am. So, as always, stay inside if you can. And since things will probably be messy in the morning, plan extra time for your AM commute.

Today's the day – the last Stated of 2019! The @NYCCouncil has accomplished so much this year, and before it's over, we have a few more orders of business today. We'll be voting to:

✅require developers receiving NYC assistance to set aside 15% of units for homeless people

✅increase transparency about the services the Department of Education provides to students with disabilities
✅require "Open to Public" signage on ALL privately-owned public spaces and more!

Stay tuned as we wrap up 2019 at the @NYCCouncil

This is tragic. My thoughts are with the victim's loved ones. These trucks can be dangerous, which is one reason why the @NYCCouncil passed Commercial Waste Zone reform. We must reduce the number of sanitation trucks on our streets to make them safer.

It's been a big year from criminals, who love to see our "leaders" demonize our brave #NYPD, cheer about bail reform, and close down jails.

And the pro-crime message is being heard. We citizens see it, and we feel it. The bad old days are returning.

Congestion pricing is such a big step forward for NYC. We have to get it right. I'll keep pushing for transparency and accountability throughout this process, as well as the subway and bus improvements that should go hand in hand with congestion pricing.

We need a solution for dealing with the epidemic of defaced and illegally covered license plates. Unless there are real consequences for trying to cheat on tolls, it will never get better.

Praying for the speedy recovery of the five victims of this heinous anti-Semitic attack during a Chanukah celebration. New York City must immediately put forward a coordinated and comprehensive plan to protect Jewish communities. Enough is enough.

It is crucial that we get the Queens bus network redesign right so buses can service the entire borough instead of revolving around a few hubs... as determined literally a century ago.

With the rise in anti-Semitic crimes in our city, we need our children to learn what happened in history when hate went unchecked – now more than ever.

I stand with my colleagues @MarkTreyger718 and @StephenLevin33 in demanding that we do better.

Mark Treyger @MarkTreyger718

We in the @NYCCouncil are calling to deepen the @NYCSchools curriculum on genocides, hate, and intolerance throughout history, with a focus on how unchecked hate led to the Holocaust.

CRSE and integration are how to build capacity for schools to be part of the fight to eliminate anti-semitism other bigotry. There is a set of recommendations from #SDAG that is waiting for this kind of support from electeds. It would be more effective than piecemeal reactions.

I wish the daily affronts to all traditionally marginalized demographics contributed to a similar urgency to address the systemic bigotry in our curricula

This image is hard to see, but we can't look away. We must face the devastation of anti-Semitism and fight it together.

Please join @UJAfedNY @JCRCNY and many more New Yorkers united against hate for Sunday's solidarity march, where we'll do just that.

What better way to ring in 2020 than with these inspiring NYC teachers and their students helping with the ball drop? The work they're doing to combat climate change is an inspirational example we all must follow, and they deserve our full support.

Unacceptable. Children live here and are at high risk for lead poisoning. People who live in NYCHA deserve better and should not have to keep waiting to learn about lead levels that can alter their child's future.

We must protect abortion rights, at all costs, in every city and state across this country. We can't afford to take this lightly.

I look forward to seeing abortion properly defined and viewed as the murder of human potential. How sad when we think more of animals than we do our own offspring. The barren are always leading this murderous practice

What message does bail reform send to hate criminals? They can violently attack our Jewish community and be released the same day, only to attack again.

We will live in fear when violent predators are immediately released after arrest.

How does bail reform make our streets safer?

Career criminals are released from jail the same day they're arrested, only to commit more crimes

New Yorkers are seeing & feeling a return to the bad old days, and "progressives" are leading the way. Enough!

The #StreetMasterPlan bill cannot take effect fast enough. 57th Ave was part of the #BQXcorridor. @NYC_DOT only made modest changes this year because they had to appease CB4. Today, a driver zoomed out of a driveway and killed a child. We need a process that doesn't let this happen.

This is the third pedestrian death within 24 hours. We're 8 days into the new year and already traffic fatalities are happening at an alarming rate. We need drastic change, and we need it now.

My deepest condolences to the victim's loved ones.

This plan to essentially wall off the High Line from promised open spaces — and to build a parking garage, no less — would be a terrible breach of public trust. We should be breaking down barriers between New Yorkers and green space, not building walls.

Punishing pedestrians and targeting communities of color is no way to make our city safer. And this is not how we build a positive relationship between police and the communities that have been borne the brunt of overpolicing for too long.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. awakened a nation not only to see where we were falling short, but to envision how much better we could be. On what would be his 91st birthday, may we all reflect on what he fought for and take up the dream that all of us may be equal and free.

I applaud Attorney General James for investigating this important issue. For decades, law enforcement has disproportionately impacted communities of color and as we reform our criminal justice system we need to know if this practice is continuing with fare evasion.

At a 32% marginal tax rate 25 thousand people making an average of $150,000 would've put almost $2 BILLION in taxes annually. What do you think about that? Would've helped during those slumps, don't you think?

How do we gain oversight and real accountability in our transit system? With municipal control. If you want to know more about how it would work, here's my #LetsGo report that accompanied my State of The City speech on this last March.

Public housing is vital to addressing homelessness, both in the short- and long-term. Today, I proudly stood with advocates to demand that the State provide NYC's public housing system with the money it desperately needs.

This is likely to happen: poor or uninsured will end up at the emergency room when they are most infectious, feel like dying after taking a bus to get there. In that time-frame they will infect maybe a dozen more because no one in the city takes it that seriously.

2100. That's only 80 years away. Within the lifetime of kids right now.

The climate crisis isn't some distant thing. It's here. And the longer we have elected officials who deny this science representing us, the less likely we are to ever recover.

We've heard that many New Yorkers are afraid to go to businesses and restaurants in Chinese communities around the city out of fear of the coronavirus.

Those fears are not based on science. I urge everyone to dine and shop in Chinatown as usual!

See below for my full statement on today's Standards & Ethics hearing. If these charges are found to be true, the Council should move to expel Council Member Andy King.

SPEAKER JOHNSON STATEMENT ON STANDARDS & ETHICS COMMITTEE HEARING

NEW YORK – New York City Council Speaker Corey Johnson released the following statement regarding today s Standards & Ethics Committee hearing

"These are incredibly disturbing allegations that follow a thorough investigation by the Council and the independent prosecutor. Council Member King has repeatedly disgraced his office with his actions. If these charges are found to be true, the Council should move to expel him. The appropriate authorities have been made aware of these allegations. I want to thank the members of the Standards & Ethics Committee and the monitors who were tasked with oversight of Council Member King for their hard work."

The HIV/AIDS epidemic is not over. We can't talk about ending HIV without acknowledging the racial disparities that persist within HIV cases.

Listening to leaders in communities of color is crucial to ending this epidemic. I'm so grateful to have had that opportunity today.

See below for my full statement on today's Standards & Ethics hearing. If these charges are found to be true, the Council should move to expel Council Member Andy King.

SPEAKER JOHNSON STATEMENT ON STANDARDS & ETHICS COMMITTEE HEARING

NEW YORK – New York City Council Speaker Corey Johnson released the following statement regarding today's Standards & Ethics Committee hearing:

"These are incredibly disturbing allegations that follow a thorough investigation by the Council and the independent prosecutor. Council Member King has repeatedly disgraced his office with his actions. If these charges are found to be true, the Council should move to expel him. The appropriate authorities have been made aware of these allegations. I want to thank the members of the Standards & Ethics Committee and the monitors who were tasked with oversight of Council Member King for their hard work."

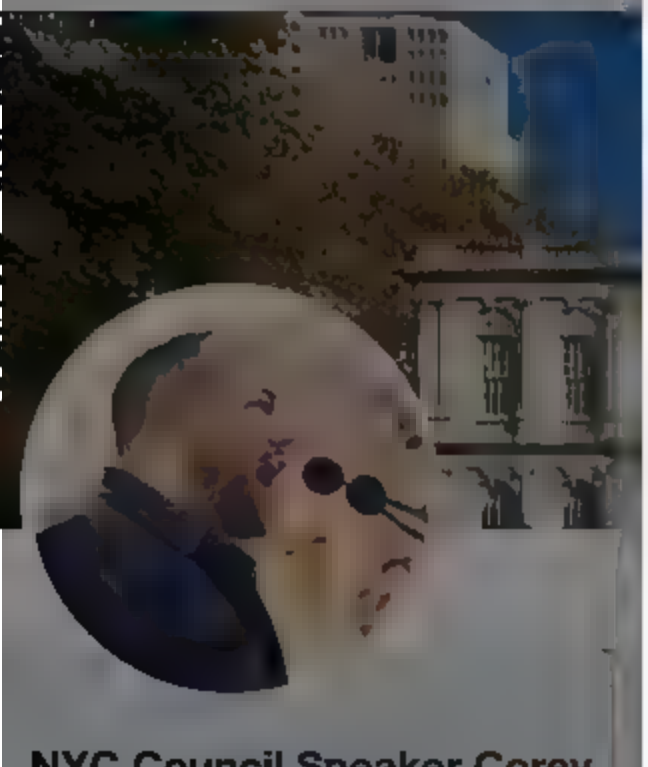
How are Citibikes "sustainable"? As someone who has taken almost 4,000 Citibike rides (& lives in your district), it's a great th ng for me



However, they require fleets of trucks to maintain, are barely used in bad weather, and replace mass transit that is runn ng regardless

Your ride history & stats!

This would save the city money and provide crucial stability for individuals and families who need it most. Albany needs to do the right thing and finally make this a priority.

Our #CaseForChangeNYC was possible because of dedicated advocates and experts coming together and making sure we put out the best recommendations to help end homelessness. I'm so proud of what we did together, and look forward to bringing these plans to fruition!

The BIG/Mark Baker capped highway would support new open space, better connections to the waterfront, and improved air quality. The cost estimate is similar to DOT's plans. The tunnel bypass would cost more but could allow for removal of the expressway. 4/5

I proudly stand with @pridecenterSI and join my colleagues in calling on Staten Island's St. Patrick Day Parade Committee to end the ban on LGBTQ groups. They should be welcome to march in the parade and celebrate with their fellow Staten Islanders.

THE COUNCIL OF
THE CITY OF NEW YORK
DANIEL DROMM

Larry Cummings
President
Staten Island St. Patrick Day Parade Committee

Dear Mr. Cummings,

We, members of the Irish Caucus and LGBT Caucus of the New York City Council, are writing this joint letter to call on you to end the ban on LGBT groups in the Staten Island St. Patrick's Day Parade.

The Pope himself said he is to be open to the possibility to include LGBT individuals. Ireland has an openly gay Taoiseach. No other Irish parade in New York City discriminates against LGBT marchers. The time is now to move forward.

We understand the sensitivities involved as the Council played an important role in the evolution of the Fifth Avenue parade. Despite concerns given the long history of exclusion and conflict, the outcome could not have been better for all involved. All Irish and Irish Americans were finally able to see themselves reflected in the parade and what it stands for. The marchers who participated were welcomed with open arms by other marchers, spectators, and the organizers. Negative attention directed at the organizers promptly dissipated. Most importantly, this groundbreaking chapter in our city's history drew to a close.

We ask that you work with us, the Irish government, and the proud Irish Americans who want to march. We know that you also agree that we must cherish all the children of the nation equally, as the Easter Proclamation implores us to do.

We look forward to hearing from you on this matter.

Sincerely,

Corey Johnson

We cannot accept delays on congestion pricing. It's not just about badly needed MTA funding, it's also a critical policy for reducing congestion and increasing safety on our streets. We need to do everything we can to make it happen.

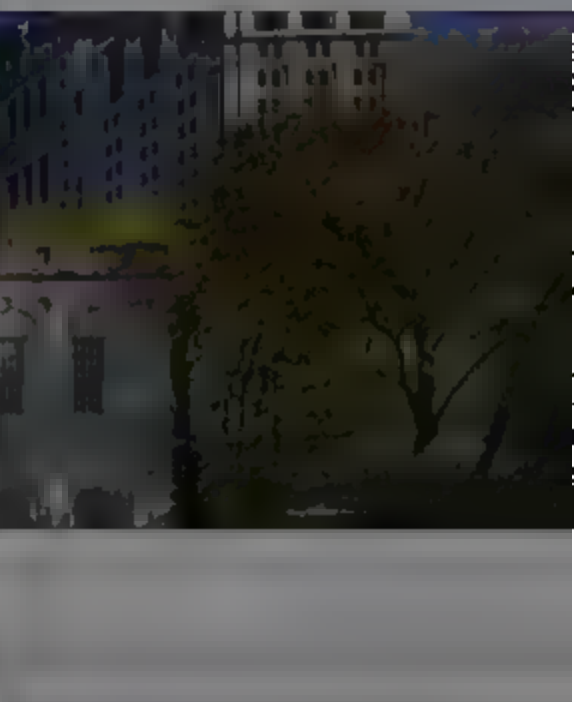
While the Trump administration continues to attack our city and its policies, we will continue to stand with our immigrant communities and all New Yorkers.

JOHNSON ON



U.S. COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE SECOND CIRCUIT RULING

"The Trump Administration is engaging in purely political retaliation against New York because we have policies that protect our immigrant New Yorkers. Trump and his administration are putting our city at risk, withholding money from the Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant Program, a program which, among other things, pays salaries for emergency responders. The ruling by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit allowing the administration to withhold this funding will not make our city any safer. We can't address homelessness without a long-term comprehensive strategy. I'm proud the @NYCCouncil is doing that with our #CaseforChangeNYC.

We need affordable permanent & supportive housing, outreach & safe havens, & proactive avoidance of evictions.

Yesterday was a monumental moment for the LGBTQ community as thousands gathered at the US Supreme Court to make their voices heard. Thank you to @ACLU who is historically defending LGBTQ rights!

ACLU @ACLU

There is an enormous amount at stake in today's Supreme Court cases. Going back to 2000, federal appeals courts have ruled that anti-trans discrimination is a form of sex discrimination that violates federal law, providing a remedy for trans workers fired

Yesterday was a monumental moment for the LGBTQ community as thousands gathered at the US Supreme Court to make their voices heard. Thank you to @ACLU who is historically defending LGBTQ rights!

ACLU @ACLU

There is an enormous amount at stake in today's Supreme Court cases. Going back to 2000, federal appeals courts have ruled that anti-trans discrimination is a form of sex discrimination that violates federal law, providing a remedy for trans workers fired

Yesterday was a monumental moment for the LGBTQ community as thousands gathered at the US Supreme Court to make their voices heard. Thank you to @ACLU who is historically defending LGBTQ rights!

ACLU @ACLU

There is an enormous amount at stake in today's Supreme Court cases. Going back to 2000, federal appeals courts have ruled that anti-trans discrimination is a form of sex discrimination that violates federal law, providing a remedy for trans workers fired

As a major city, we knew #COVID19 would impact NYC. We may have other confirmed cases in the coming days and weeks, but we are prepared to handle it. We must continue to practice common sense and base decisions on science and public health information, not fear. (1/2)

He has two sons with connections to NYC, both of whom are being tested for the virus and are isolated at home. One is a student at SAR Academy in Riverdale but is not showing symptoms. The second student goes to a university in NYC and is showing symptoms. 2/5

City health department officials are saying this appears to be the first case of community spread. However, New Yorkers should continue to go about their daily lives. NYC has not declared a state of emergency. 4/5

My statement on the new Coronavirus case and Riverdale school closings. Everyone should continue to follow all recommended @nycHealthy precautions and taking basic steps to protect themselves. There will be more cases in NY and we are prepared to respond.

ANDREW COHEN

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Tuesday, March 3, 2020
Contact: Harmony Guo | hguo@council.nyc.gov | 646-265-7994

STATEMENT FROM COUNCIL MEMBER ANDREW COHEN ON NEW CORONAVIRUS CASE IN NEW YORK STATE

Bronx, NY Today, Council Member Andrew Cohen responded to reports of a new Coronavirus case with a connection to the Riverdale section of the Bronx, the second confirmed case in New York State. Council Member Cohen will continue to monitor the situation as it continues to develop. With the available information, the patient has been confirmed to be a resident of New Rochelle and employed in Manhattan and has not traveled internationally to any of the most affected countries. The patient is currently hospitalized in Manhattan and has a child who is a student of a Satellite Aleba Riverdale Academy school in Riverdale. As a precaution, SAR has closed its schools today and is cooperating with the New York City Department of Health to follow advised preventative measures and exercise caution with respect to next steps.

Council Member Cohen issued the following statement: "I urge the community to remain calm in light of recent developments and continue to follow all recommended Department of Health precautions. Everyone should be taking basic steps to protect themselves and be diligent in covering coughs and sneezes, washing hands regularly with soap, using alcohol-based sanitizer and avoiding hand contact with face, eyes, nose, and mouth. There will be more positive cases of COVID-19 in New York City and our City is prepared to respond. My office will work closely with the Department of Health as well as State and Federal partners to ensure New Yorkers have the most accurate information."

Fact: 80% of people with #coronavirus have mild symptoms that resolve on their own without the need for medical intervention.

Since no tests are available, no way to know. But pretty sure I had this a wk ago. All the symptoms, went straight to the chest (it has receptors for lungs only). By the time I got around to stocking up, the worst was over. Still a behavior modifier

Rutgers Hillel advising the community to be "mindful" when inviting Yeshiva Univ students to gatherings this weekend, with hope that people "make the right decision".

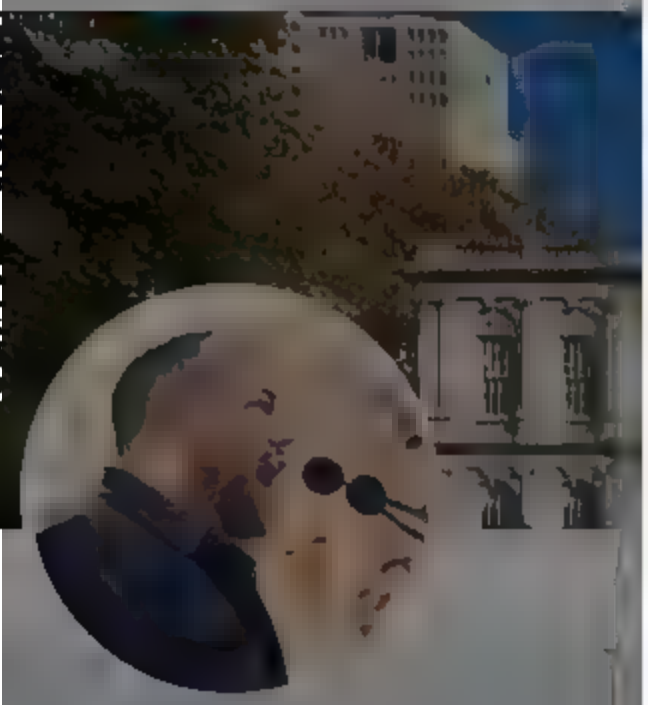
This is a TOTALLY unjustified measure, not supported by health experts. It's the kind of shunning we must avoid.

Official Announcement from Rutgers Hillel and Rutgers Chabad

RH RUTGERS PSA RU CHABAD

Dear Rutgers Jewish Community,

As many of you may have heard the Coronavirus has officially made its way to the United States. While it is mostly being contained on the West Coast, multiple recent cases have arisen on the East Coast, more specifically in the TriState Area. Rutgers University has been doing a fantastic job working with possibly threatened and/or threatening communities (as far as Corona goes) such as the International Students, Asian American Students, and Study Abroad Programs, to keep us safe, and it is our duty to help with the cause and be as careful as we can with the matter.



Currently, the only confirmed university on the East Coast to publicly recognize it's having been contaminated by Corona is Yeshiva University. Yeshiva University, a private Orthodox Jewish university, while quite removed from Rutgers in a geographical sense, has many social connections with many students here at Rutgers, specifically in the Jewish community.

It is for this reason, that we, Rutgers Hillel and Rutgers Chabad, are officially asking from all Rutgers Jewish students to be mindful when hosting friends over for Shabbat and/or the weekend from Yeshiva University over the next week or so (that is the weekends of 03/07 and 03/14) and when it comes to visiting them. While we are always excited to welcome guests from all backgrounds, it is important to be mindful with the current state of the virus at YU, that perhaps having guests from YU here at Rutgers might be dangerously affecting the position Rutgers University holds to try its best to keep Corona off of our campus.

We urge all of you to make the right decision in this matter and to please reach

UPDATE from @NYGovCuomo: We're now at 173 #COVID19 cases in the state (14 are in the hospital), 36 of them in NYC (17 new).

Again, senior citizens & those with underlying illnesses/compromised immune systems are those most vulnerable & at risk of succumbing to the #coronavirus.

Out of an abundance of caution, we are postponing my State of the City speech. Read my statement below:

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER COREY JOHNSON ON STATE OF THE CITY 2020

New York, NY – City Council Speaker Corey Johnson issued the following statement regarding his State of the City speech scheduled for March [illegible] 2020 at the Borough of Manhattan Community College:

"Out of an abundance of caution, we are postponing my State of the City speech. We felt this was the right decision to ensure that Council employees and the hundreds of guests we invited remain safe and healthy.

To be clear, the city's Health Department is not calling for a prohibition on public events for all New Yorkers at this time. At the moment officials are urging the elderly, those who are sick and those with chronic lung disease, heart disease, cancer, diabetes, or a weakened immune system to avoid unnecessary events and gatherings. The NYC Health Department is monitoring the situation, and will adjust as needed.

I was looking forward to the speech, but at a time when we are urging New Yorkers to consider measures like telecommuting and staggered work hours, it seemed an unnecessary risk. The good news is we will still announce the policies and proposals we had planned for State of the City on Thursday, and are looking forward to getting feedback from New Yorkers on those plans.

I want to thank the Borough of Manhattan Community College and the Council staff who worked hard on this event to the very end."

We are now at a point where it is necessary to create limits on non-essential large gatherings. Other cities and states around the country are taking this responsible step. New York City should as well. My full #Coronavirus statement below:

STATEMENT BY COUNCIL SPEAKER COREY JOHNSON
ON CORONAVIRUS/COVID-19

New York, NY Today, the City announced we have 57 confirmed Coronavirus cases, many of which occurred through community spread. I have been speaking to leading public health care experts and believe that we are now at a point where it is necessary to create limits on non-essential large gatherings. Other cities and states around the country are taking this responsible step. New York City should as well.

We should begin with officially postponing the St. Patrick's Day Parade. Even though it is outdoors, and therefore presumed to be less risky than indoor gatherings, it is a non-essential event and will lead to large crowds of people in close contact – thus, an unnecessary risk. At a city, we need to look at other mass gatherings as well to see how we can lower exposure to keep people safe. Other cities have determined how to reshape large gatherings, and there are a number of models for how we can do this. Our public health care experts should establish clear guidelines for New York. I have spoken to the Department of Health and Administration about determining these criteria and guidelines.

I am not calling for New York City to be shut down. There is absolutely no children should continue going to school. Businesses should continue to operate. Healthy New Yorkers should continue working, shopping at local businesses and taking part in civic life. If you're sick, stay home – all you should if you have symptoms like coughing, shortness of breath, fever or sore throat. All New Yorkers should practice good hygiene and remain vigilant about their health. People who are most at risk of a bad outcome of the novel coronavirus infection must be the most vigilant. That is people over 65, and people who have certain chronic conditions, such as weakened immune systems.

This is about avoiding unnecessary risks and viewing these gatherings as ways people safe and healthy. We will continue to monitor this fast-moving situation and adjust as needed.

We should all be working towards a peaceful two state solution for Israel and Palestine that respects the dignity of both the Palestinian and Israeli people.

> I am a strong supporter of the state of Israel and believe in a two state solution for Palestine and Israel that respects the dignity of both the Palestinian and Israeli people. I denounce Council Member Yeger's comments as they are unhelpful and unwelcome. Comments like these do nothing to help advance the dialogue needed to foster a peaceful solution, which is something we all should be working towards.

Threshold in NYC for closing schools is too high. We know there are sick students/teachers who still don't meet the very narrow criteria for testing. Without being tested, you won't get a positive. Your logic is just like Trump's saying # of US cases is "low", when no testing.

I personally know high school students who are food insecure and absolutely cannot "take care of themselves." So meals & services need to continue.

Out of an abundance of caution, we are postponing my State of the City speech. Read my statement below:

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER COREY JOHNSON ON STATE OF THE CITY 2020

New York, NY – City Council Speaker Corey Johnson issued the following statement regarding his State of the City speech scheduled for March [illegible] 2020 at the Borough of Manhattan Community College:

"Out of an abundance of caution, we are postponing my State of the City speech. We felt this was the right decision to ensure that Council employees and the hundreds of guests we invited remain safe and healthy.

To be clear, the city's Health Department is not calling for a prohibition on public events for all New Yorkers at this time. At the moment officials are urging the elderly, those who are sick and those with chronic lung disease, heart disease, cancer, diabetes, or a weakened immune system to avoid unnecessary events and gatherings. The NYC Health Department is monitoring the situation, and will adjust as needed.

I was looking forward to the speech, but at a time when we are urging New Yorkers to consider measures like telecommuting and staggered work hours, it seemed an unnecessary risk. The good news is we will still announce the policies and proposals we had planned for State of the City on Thursday, and are looking forward to getting feedback from New Yorkers on those plans.

I want to thank the Borough of Manhattan Community College and the Council staff who worked hard on this event to the very end."

Large scale school closures should be considered, and a decision needs to be made before the end of this week. We must have a plan in place to make sure services continue for families who rely on our schools to provide meals and medical and other crucial services.

I strongly support the @HouseDemocrats #FamiliesFirst #Coronavirus Response Act and I hope Republicans in the House and Senate will too. Some provisions the bill includes are:
- paid sick leave
- widespread free testing
- food aid
- unemployment insurance

Let's get this passed.

For those asking, the State of Emergency order in NYC means the city has the power to do things like
- establish a curfew
- designate emergency shelters
- postpone elective procedures in hospitals

BUT the order merely gives the city the power to act. It doesn't mandate actions.

Helpful information from a real leader on why it's so crucial for us to take bold action to increase social distancing. It's about making sacrifices as individuals to protect our most vulnerable neighbors, friends, and family.

> Barack Obama @BarackObama
> If you re wondering whether t's an overreaction to cancel large gatherings and public events (and I love basketball), here's a useful primer as to why these measures can slow the spread of the v rus and save lives. We have to look out for each other

We must take bold, decisive measures to do everything we can to limit the spread of coronavirus/COVID-19.

This pandemic presents an enormous challenge for us as a city. But I have complete confidence in our ability to get through this together. 4/

In times of trouble New Yorkers never fail to come together. By doing so, we rise to every occasion. I have no doubt that we will weather this crisis as we have past crises. And in the end we will be stronger. This is the New York way. 6/6

My latest statement on #COVID19:

It is time to close our public schools for the safety and wellbeing of the students, teachers, and staff.

This is not an easy decision, but we must take aggressive measures to stop the spread of #coronavirus/COVID-19. 1/

It is time to close our public schools. This isn't an easy decision, but we must take aggressive measures to stop the spread of #COVID19.

Teaching and learning can not take place under these circumstances for the safety and well being of the teachers and students 1/

Thank you @SpeakerPelosi for passing #FamiliesFirst aid package to help Americans suffering during this crisis. It's shameful that Senate Republicans left for the weekend without voting on it. Mitch McConnell must immediately return & pass this bill. 1/

The city must come up with a plan that includes child care relief for families who need it so that our workers can continue working, especially health care workers. We need food and medical services for students who need it. It is not time to panic. But it is time to act. 2/

Thank you for saying this. I understand what we do as educators in this city. Our job is vast and goes beyond lessons. However, I'm not a babysitter. School is not a babysitting service. We need a plan to support our most vulnerable kids and then close.

The city must come up with a plan that includes child care relief for families who need it so that our workers can continue working, especially health care workers. We need food and medical services for students who need it. It is not time to panic. But it is time to act. 2/
